VOL. CXXXIV— No. 117. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, THURSDAY, MAY 16 1918. PRICE ONE CENT.

ACTIVITY IN REAL ESTATE IN ALEXANDRIA

Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation Buys Eleven Pieces of Property—Several Houses Purchased by Others During the Past Week—Growing Demand for Homes In All Parts of the City.

More activity has been manifested in the real estate market during the past few days than at any other period in the history of Alexandria for years past, say those who claim to know.

Eleven of the buildings sold were purchased through the General Realty Corporation, for the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, which will rent them to their men employed in the shipyards. Included in the list of properties bought is the old Alexandria hospital building at the southeast corne rof Wolfe and Pitt streets. The building has been entirely renovated since it was used for hospital purposes. It has some thirty or more rooms which, it is said, will be used as temporary rooming quarters for the new men as they arrive in the city who come here to work in the shipyard. The house was under lease to the Washington Steel and Ordnance Company until within a short time ago.

Other homes bought by the Shipyard Corporation are five brick houses, purchased from Wallace Lindsey, through Alexander Suter, one of which is located at 202 Prince street, and four on South Lee street, Nos. 201, 203, 205, 207, all of which was at one time owned by the First National Bank. Two homes were also sold to the same company in Rosemont, one on Russell road and the other on Walnut street, owned by the Rosemont Developement Company.

Three two-story brick dwellings on the south side of Wolfe street, between Royal and Fairfax streets, Nos. 310, 312 and 314, are also included in the purchases by the General Realty Corporation for the Shipbuilding Corporation. They were purchased from George F. Chadwick.

Just where the tenants of the buildings sold will find other places in which to reside is a question which remains unanswered in several cases. That many new houses will have to be erected within the near future to supply the necessary demand is obvious. The next question is where will they be built and when? Men with money should certainly find no difficultiy in making good investments in new houses in Alexandria for the next few years to come.

LAST OF BANQUETS.

Enjoyabe Occasion in the Parish Hall of St. Paul's Church Last Night—Inspiring Addresses Delivered.

Last night in the Parish Hall of St. Paul's church was held the fourth and last of the series of banquets given under the auspices of the Laymen's League and Bible class of that church, which was largely attended by the members of the class and a few invited guests. Philip Heisley, and "The Rome of Biblical Language" by E. C. Dunn, were all delivered and showed a masterful knowledge of the subjects which had been assigned these gentlemen.

Among the guests present and who also made well and timely remarks were Rev. Dr. Allison of the Presbyterian church; Mr. Reese of the Y. M. C. A. work in the army, and who has been the leader of the community singing here lately; Eugene B. Taylor and H. Vogt, of the Episcopal Seminary, near this city. The president of the Layman's League, Dr. G. T. Klipstein, presided.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT.

Station Employes Allege Prohibition Inspector Payne Struck a Prisoner Yesterday Afternoon.

Much of the time at the Police Court this morning was consumed in the trial of W. E. Payne, prohibition inspector, who had been cited to appear at the instance of employes at the union passenger station, who alleged that the prohibition officer struck a man he had in charge, near that place, yesterday afternoon. The man who, it was asserted had been assaulted, was absent. The prosecution placed a number of witnesses on the stand who said they saw Payne strike his prisoner in the face while the latter was being taken to Alexandria Court House in an automobile.

Mr. Payne and two other state officers, who were in the automobile at the time, denied the charge. The accused stated that after the automobile had proceeded north on Mount Vernon avenue between two and three hundred yards the prisoner, who had been arrested for bringing an unlawful quantity of liquor into the state, began to cast bottles of whisky from his suit case into the roadway in order to destroy the evidence against him. The automobile was brought to a stop and Mr. Payne placed handcuffs on his prisoner and forcibly pushed him back into the car. He also shook his finger at him and warned him of the consequences of resisting an officer. After hearing all the testimony the court declared that the charge against the prohibition officer had not been proven.

A white man, charged with being drunk and disorderly, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear, and four young men, charged with being disorderly upon the streets, were dismissed, it appearing that they were waiting for an electric train and were on their way to work in this neighborhood.

There were two special sessions of the court last night. At the first William Whalen was fined $10 for striking a young woman. An hour later Levi Trego was held for the action of the grand jury for bringing sixty-eight pints of whisky into the state. He had been taken from a southbound Washington Southern train. Trego said he was on his way to Florida.

FIENDISH DESTRUCTION.

Bosnia and Herzegovina Literally Devastated and Its People Almost Exterminated.

London, May 16.—A graphic picture of the terrible economic distress prevailing in Bosnia and Herzebovina is published by the newspaper Glasloboda, of Agram, Austria. The paper declares that only two provinces in the Austrian empire have suffered more terribly from the war than Bosnia and Herzegovina.

"These two provinces," it says, "are Galicia and Bukowina, which were the cockpits of great conflicts between the Australian and Russian armies. Nevertheless, the situation in Bosnia and Herzegovina is horrible.

"Entire districts of Eastern Bosnia and the whole of the eastern part of Herzegovina are today depopulated and devasted regions, which look as if a terrible typhoon had visited them with its devilish destruction. A great number of inhabitants were deported and have since died in internment camps. Those who remained were massacred by Austrian soldiers. In other districts the population is dying of starvation.

"As a result of such economic misery the deaths exceeded the births by 5,000 in 1915, and by 23,711 in 1916. The number does not include dead found on battlefields. All the live stock has been destroyed and consumed by the army. In consequence, it is impossible to till the ground, which was formerly done exclusively with oxen."

George E. Price & Company will have for sale tomorrow and the balance of the week, halibut, large roe and buck shad, Jersey trout, medium trout and salt-water crockers. 117-1t

Todd, of Baltimore, son and daughter-in-law of Mrs. Harper, unexpectedly exchanged greetings. Those who comprised the happy reunion were Misses Ella, Fannie and Bessie Hill, Mrs. M. W. Dunnington, of Accotink, Mrs. Harper, Mr. Feriol Fauntleroy Hill, of Colorado, who returned after an absence of ten years, Captain James C. Hill, U. S. A., of Camp Greene, N. C., and Mr. G. M. Hill, of Washington. Mrs. L. E. Payne, of Chandler, Oklohoma, was not present on account of ill health, and Mr. Frank Todd and wife were detained in Detroit on account of Mr. Todd's connection with the Henry Ford War Works.

Miss Elizabeth Warren Peyton is in Greenville, S. C., visiting her brother, Addison Peyton who is stationed there with a University of Virginia Unit.

The regular weekly prayer meeting will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Anne Lee Memorial Home for the Aged, at the northeast corner of Fairfax and Cameron streets. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

Mrs. Samuel Lunt, who recently underwent an operation in the Alexandria hospital, will return to her home in Philadelphia today. She will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Victor Lee Emerson, and her sister, Mrs. E. H. Hicks.

The marriage of Miss Mary L. Clark, of this city and Mr. Frederick A. Smith, of Washington, D. C., was quietly solemnized at noon today in the presence of the two immediate families, at the manse of the Second Presbyterian church in Alexandria by Rev. Dr. John Lee Allison. Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for a trip to Atlantic City and New York.

One hundred years ago Friday of this week, May 17,1818, St. Paul's church, in this city was consecrated. This event will be celebrated next Sunday at the 11 o'clock service. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Wallace E. Rollins, D. D., of the Theological Seminary. An elaborate musical program has been arranged. At this service the handsome silk flag, given by Mr. George B. Carlin, will be formally presented by Gen. MacLachlin, the British Military attache. This was to have been presented at the Easter service, but owing to the unavoidable absence of the General, this function was postponed. The public is invited to attend.

Lieut. O. A. Reardon of the Aviation Corps, U. S. A., was among those to receive a "first trip" ariel letter service, coming from the Aero Club, New York, yesterday.

The Rev. Dr. Berryman Green, of the Episcopal Theological Seminary of Virginia, and Mrs. Green are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Chamberlain, at their home in Leesburg.

Lindsey to W. Clements Jester, a two-story brick dwelling house at Braddock Heights, Alexandria county.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Old Dominion Boat Club will resume their series of dances at the club house on Saturday, May 25, and will hold these dances every other Saturday evening throughout the summer. A percentage of the receipts will be given to Red Cross work, after paying expenses and contributing towards the furnishings of the club house. These dances have been most enjoyable affairs for the past few years and will doubtless again be the principal social events of the spring and summer season.

MEET IN RICHMOND IN 1919

Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows Concludes Annual Session at Lynchburg With Installation of Officers.

Lynchburg, Va., May 16. — The grand lodge of the Odd Fellows of Virginia adjourned late yesterday evening to meet next year in Richmond. At the night session the newly-elected officers were installed, the new grand master, O. L. Mason, of this city, having previously appointed officers, as follows: Grand marshal, E. H. Gibson, of Culpeper; grand conductor, E. S. Dennis, of Pearisburg; grand guardian, J. E. Webb, of Brookneal, and herald, Charles Gunter, of Newport News.

The convention was one of the most successful the order has ever had and it was patriotic from start to finish.

The grand lodge levied a tax of 50 cents per capita for war purposes, the fund being designed to protect members who have gone to the war, its use being to keep them in good standing as long as in the army or navy. A resolution looking to biennial sessions in the future, another war measure, was defeated.

General C. C. Vaughan, of Franklin, Frank Miller, of Norfolk, and W. C. Stubbs, of Woods Crossroads were elected trustees of the Odd Fellows' Orphanage, which remains at sixteen members, the action of the Bristol convention last year having been previously rescinded during the convention here.

At the afternoon session the new officers of the Rebekah assembly were installed, together with the following appointive officers: Chaplain, Mrs. Emma Funk, of Roanoke; marshal, Mrs. Bessie Feaster, of Hopewell; conductor, Mrs. Julia Blackwood, of Clifton Forge; inside guardian, Mrs. Annie Palmer, of Childress, and outside guardian, Mrs. Isabella Merrin, of Newport News. The afternoon session closed the assembly, which adjourned to meet simultaneously with the next grand lodge.

FRENCH GET HILL 44 BACK.

Hard Fighting Continues Around Dispute Point Near Kemmel.

Hard fighting continued yesterday in the neighborhood of Hill 44, north of Kemmel, which was stormed and reteken late yesterday by French troops. This much-disputed elevation has changed hands many times recently, but the French were holding the Germans off at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

French troops Tuesday evening attacked German positions near Hailles, on the front below Amiens, and captured a wood on the west bank of the Ayre river, it is announced officially. The Germans made a counter-attack and were beaten off with severe losses. During the night there was a violent bombardment north of Montdidier and between Montdidier and Noyon.

North of the Chemin-des-Dames the French repulsed a small raiding enterprise directed against our small posts in the region of La Bovelle."

WILL NOT VETO BILL.

Declares Draft Measure Is the Best Available Under the Existing Circumstances.

Washington, May 16.—President Wilson yesterday declined to veto the bill passed by Congress changing the basis of army draft quotas from State population to the number of men in class 1 because of objection to the elimination of plan giving credits for volunteers.

In a letter to Senator Phelan, of California, who had asked that the bill be returned to Congress, the President said:

"I admit there are two sides to the question about allowing 'credits' for volunteers in conducting the draft, but I have been over the matter several times and with very great care with the War Department, and am convinced that the interest of the country in the matter of winning the war will be best served by the measure as it now stands. I am quite ready to concede that neither solution of this question is entirely satisfactory. We have to take the average best."

WOMEN'S PLACE IN CHURCH.

Discussed by Southern Baptists, Who Re-elect Officers.

Hot Springs, Ark., May 16.—Without a dissenting vote, the general officers of the Southern Baptist convention were re-elected at yesterday's morning's session of the convention.

Interest in the routine of the convention, which is the sixty-third, was overshadowed by the contest between advocates of "woman suffrage" and its opponents.

The question whether the women of the denomination should have direct representation in the convention has been a perplexing one for several sessions. Debate centered mainly upon women of ancient Corinth to be silent in the temples of Christ. Advocates of equal suffrage declare Paul's advice was occasioned by conditions which were peculiar to Corinth.

Opposition came from delegates who feared that participation in conventions by the women would militate against the work now being done by the Woman's Missionary Union, in that it would effect a division of interest. Most of the delegates who opposed equal suffrage were from Eastern States.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN TO BE LAUNCHED SUNDAY

Committees Appointed at Meeting Held at Chamber of Commerce Last Night to Act in Conjunction With Alexandria Red Cross in Raising This City's Apportionment in Next Week's Campaign.

Alexandria's campaign to raise its apportionment of $12,000 for the American Red Cross will be launched on Sunday afternoon next at 5 o'clock with a public meeting which will be held near the Confederate monument at the corner of Washington and Prince streets. This was decided at a meeting of the committee of the Chamber of Commerce held at their rooms last night. The committee will work in conjunction with the local branch of the Red Cross.

President Robert L. Payne called the meeting to order and after stating the object of the meeting called Mr. Carroll Pierce to the chair, the latter named gentleman having been appointed chairman of the campaign for this city by the National Red Cross. Mr. Pierce stated the necessity for Alexandria to do its part and asked for the co-operation of all in carrying on the work.

Prominent speakers will be engaged for Sunday's meeting and appropriate music will be provided. The committees appointed are as follows:

LONDON PEACE DEBATE.

Emperor Charles' Letter Up in House of Commons.

London, May 16.—The Manchester Guardian says that the peace offer made to France last year by Austria as revealed recently in the letters written by Emperor Charles to Prince Sixtus, will form the subject of a debate of the highest importance in the house of commons tomorrow.

Amsterdam, May 16.—Prof. Quidde, of Munich, in a statement to Berlin newspapers, supplements the denial recently made by the semiofficial North German Gazette that he had been officially commissioned in Germany to make the peace offers which the London Daily Mail recently reported him to have extended to Prof. Herron, an American living in Geneva, for transmission to President Wilson. Prof. Quidde in this statement denies that he made any peace proposals to Prof. Herron, for transmission either to President Wilson or any one else.

Washington, May 16.—Since the publication of the emperor's letters the question has been raised whether the Austrian offer should not have received greater attention and especially whether President Wilson should not have been consulted.

Defies Cabinet.

Amsterdam, May 16.—Herr Friedberg, vice president of the Prussian state ministry, speaking on Tuesday in the Prussian lower house, said, according to Berlin dispatches, that the government continues to adhere unshakably to equal suffrage, and is resolved to employ all constitutional means to carry the suffrage through. The government, however, he said, also takes the view that the upper house is an equivalent factor of the legislature, and must first pronounce its decision in the matter. The bill, accordingly, will be submitted also to the upper chamber.

Should this procedure not lead to the final acceptance of equal suffrage within a definite period, the vice president said, then the house will be dissolved.

The franchise bill, as amended, eliminating the provision for one vote for each man, was passed on third reading. The Poles, social democrats and progressives voted against it. The house adjourned until June 4.

VISITORS TO MOUNT VERNON.

More Have Inspected Historic Mansion This Year Than Ever.

Wartime Washington evidently takes time to go sightseeing on holidays and Sunday afternoons, for the Mount Vernon Association announces that more people have visited Mount Vernon this year than ever before. Visiting hours at Mount Vernon are to be lengthened, so that the gates will be open on week days from 9:30 to 6 o'clock, except on Saturdays, when they will be open until 8 o'clock, to give a greater number of government employes who have Saturday afternoons free opportunity to visit the mansion.

The association calls attention to a resolution passed several days ago admitting school children to the grounds without charge on Saturdays, when accompanied by teachers or suitable guardians, who are also admitted free. To be admitted on these terms, the children must come as a school body or part of a school, and arrangements for the visit must be made in advance with the superintendent.

GERMAN CHARACTER

How deep-seated has been the desire for this war of conquest in the mind of all Germans both before and during its frightful course is not only shown by the careful planning therefor disclosed in the admissions of former Ambassador Count Lichnowsky and Minister von Jagow, but in the public utterances of the leading men in German politics time and again during its checkered course. The whole German people has been fed and nourished on the idea of advantage by military aggrandizement, and have become thoroughly imbued with the grossest form of materialism, cutting entirely loose from all Christian and human considerations, as taught and practised in the nations which claim to be civilized.

As the Charlottesville Progress says, materialism was the distinguishing mark of the nations of the ancient world, and it was not until Christianity was introduced in the palmy days of Rome that mankind learned that there was a difference between meum and tuum, that true morality obligated one to respect.

The benighted heathens of the middle ages, the Islamites, followed the same course as the Romans before them, taking where they could, and holding by the force of the sword, immortality being represented to their sensuous natures as the reward of conquest in the name of the Prophet, and consisting of "the sparkle of female eyes, the handkerchief of green silk, and the cap of precious stones."

And it has remained for the Teutonic peoples of all the professing Christians of history to imitate the sordid example and barbarous aspirations of these savage conquerors of old.

The Washington Herald directs attention to the fact that this is, by no means, the first time that a nation has set out to dominate the world. It is not the first time that the issue has lain between civilization and barbarism, or between autocracy and democracy.

In every war, throughout the twenty-five centuries past, the man or nation bent upon world-dominion has finally been licked. In the present test the world is bigger than ever before, especially as to man's determination for freedom and democracy. And William Hohenzollern will not break the record.

VON CAPELLE DREAM

Of course Admiral von Capelle is doing his best to cheer up the German Reichstag, but he has to suppress the important facts and invent substitutes for them in order to make even a plausible showng for the submarines.

As a cotemporary says, no matter how much destruction they work, these craft have failed utterly to do the two things they were assigned to. They were to starve England into submission before the harvest of 1917; von Capelle's department guaranteed the subjugation of England in six months. It is perfectly evident that if they could not starve England before the harvest of last year they never could, because a good many submarines are destroyed and because a great many ships are built to take the place of the victims. Even if the rate of destruction exceeds the rate of construction how many years would it take to reduce the world's merchant marine to a point at which Great Britain would be starved? Last year a German arithmetic man calculated that all the allied and neutral shipping would be sunk in a little less than five years. But the German statements of sinkings are palpably inflated, and since that calculation was made sinkings have decreased and construction has rapidly increased. And does any German suppose that his country can stay in the war for another five years?

The other task of the submarines was to prevent America from sending troops to France. We have sent over more than half a million men, and not one eastbound transport has been sunk except the Tuscania. A German submarine commander has explained in print that the danger of attacking convoyed ships is so great that the submarines cannot be expected to attack any vessels except unconvoyed merchant vessels. But 90 per cent of the merchant steamers are convoyed, and of course all the transports are, and this accounts for the decreasing damage inflicted by the submarines. They are reduced for victims to occasional solitary steamers or sailing vessels.

OUTRAGED WOMANHOOD

Whoever else may be disposed to give up, it is a comfort to know that the women of the allied countries are irreconcilable and uncompromising, says the Baltimore Sun. Womanhood everywhere has a special account to settle with the Huns. The Prussian philosophy and system have regarded woman largely as a burden-bearer. She occupied a humiliating position in peace even in her own country. No nation with any sense of chivalry or respect for woman as such could have been guilty of the monstrous crimes which German soldiers have committed and which Germany has sanctioned in France and Belgium. If Prussianism succeeds, woman will continue in practical serfdom wherever it is dominant. Woman, therefore, must remain till the end the sworn enemy of this tyrant, not only because she has been the chief victim in this war, but because there is no hope for her sex, except in the complete overthrow of the spirit which would keep her enslaved.

This invincible determination is reflected in the refusal of Queen Marie of Roumania to accept the German peace to which the king and the men of Roumania have reluctantly submitted. They have passed under the yoke, seeing no other way. But the Queen is still at war. She will fight on. She would rather be a free peasant than a subject queen. "It is only a woman's hope," she says, "but I cannot abandon it."

The rock of outraged womanhood is the rock on which Prussianism is bound to be wrecked, if there were no other in its way. There can be no peace till women give the word, and they will not give the word while the monstrous enemy of womanhood survives.

NEARLY ALL PASS TEST

Henry Rood writes as follows in the Century:

"Never in all history has an army been organized and handled as the National Army of the United States. For instance, one of the ablest British officers told me, after a considerable sojourn at one of the cantonments, that nothing approaching it for thorough organization, housing, etc., is known at any of the great cantonments of the British army.

"Certain it is that our men generally are better cared for than any others recorded in military annals. And the raw material gathered in the cantonments, the men themselves selected for the National Army effectually disprove the fears some profess to have held that as a type American manhood had deteriorated during the last generation or so.

"Provost Marshal General Crowder is authority for the statement that of all the men called to the colors last summer by registration and draft, only 20 per cent were rejected for physical disability, and a considerable proportion were refused admittance to the National Army because of minor disability, such as weakened arches or some slight visual or dental defect, to which little attention is paid in civil life, but which unfits a man for the terrific strain of modern warfare. Let it be remembered that, counting exclusions from such causes, four men out of every five or the six hundred or seven hundred thousand called to the National Army came up to rigid physical requirements, and were permitted to wear khaki.

AERIAL MAIL SERVICE

A new chapter was written in the history of the postal service yesterday when the new airplane mail service was inaugurated between New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

Starting from New York promptly at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning Lieut. Torrey Webb and Lieut. J. C. Edgerton, a former Washington man, successfully piloted their machines over the course and landed at the aviation field in Potomac Park.

We live in a wonderful age, when the weird stories of the Arabian Nights' entertainments and the wild descriptions of adventure portrayed in books in Don Quixote's library have become actual facts. Men are navigating the heavens and establishing literal air lines for mail service. Within the next few years aerial passenger service will doubtless be in vogue.

WAR ON U-BOATS.

Admiralty Restrictions in North Sea Now in Effect.

London, May 16.—Asked in the house of commons yesterday by Robert P. Houston, a Liverpool shopowner, for information "as to our successful operations in capturing enemy submarines around the coast during the past three weeks," Thomas J. MacNamara, financial secretary of the admiralty, made this reply:

"On the whole the general trend of the submarine warfare has progressed quite satisfactorily since the first of January.

"News from neutral countries and the increased boastfulness and public disclaimers of the enemy are proof of our recent success, but the admiralty is averse to stating results, good or bad, of a short period.

"The total number of British steamers attacked by submarines and which escaped uninjured from January 1 to April 30 was 172."

The British admiralty restrictions on navigation in the northern part of the North Sea in consequence of the laying of a great mine field for the purpose of foiling submarines, became operative today and hereafter all shipping in that area must comply with stringent regulations or ignore them at their own peril.

MARSHALL M'CORMICK DEAD

Was Member of Democratic National Convention Which Nominatel Cleveland.

Winchester, Va., May 16.—Marshall McCormick, the widely known Virginia constitutional and criminal lawyer, died yesterday afternoon at Berryville in his seventieth year. Angina pectoris was the direct cause of death, although he had been failing several years. His wife, formerly Miss Rosalie Taylor, of Alexandria, died three months ago. He was a son of Province and Margaretta Holmes McCormick, of Clarke county. He graduated from the University of Virginia. He was mayor and Commonwealth's attorney of Berryville many years and, as member of the state senate, helped frame the election laws of Virginia.

He was a member of the Democratic National Convention that nominated Cleveland in 1884.

Beginning the practice of law with no capital he amassed a fortune, figuring conspicuously in many noted criminal and constitutional cases in the east and south. He was the general counsel of the Norfolk & Western Railway. He also owned four large farms and thoroughbred horse-breeding stables in Clarke county.

COMPLETE IN 37 DAYS.

Steamer Turned Over To Government and Three Records Broken

Philadelphia, May 16.—Another shipbuilding record was made yesterday when the collier Tuckahoe was turned over to the United States Government by the New York Shipbuilding Company of Camden, N. J., 37 days after the vessel's keel was laid down.

The finishing touch was added to the Tuckahoe at the stroke of midnight and this morning the shipbuilders gave the boat to the Government representatives for its trial trip. A crew was placed on board shortly before noon.

On Sunday, May 5, the first world's record was established by the Tuckahoe's builders when the boat was launched in 27 days. The 10 days since then were employed in completing the ship, establishing two more records—the time between launching and completion, and the total time of construction. These three new marks give the prize donated by Charles M. Schwab, Director-General of Shipbuilding, to the men who constructed the Tuckahoe. The nearest previous record wah 55 days, made in Seattle.

Absolute secrecy is being maintained as to the details of the trial trip this afternoon.

HUGHES IN AIR PROBE.

Election Opponent of 1916 Gets Appointment From the President.

Washington, May 16.—President Wilson yesterday announced the appointment of Charles Evans Hughes, of New York, to be an associate of Attorney General Gregory in investigating charges of dishonesty in aircraft production.

The selection gave substance to the impression that the President is willing and anxious to have any charges against the administration which is founded on facts. Other important developments reveal that he is equally determined to prevent politics from playing any part in the inquiries.

In a letter to Senator Martin, majority leader, the President called upon the supporters of the administration in Congress to defeat the Chamberlain measure for a general investigation of the conduct of the war. The fight is still on, as a substitute resolution introduced by Senator Chamberlain calls for an investigation of ordnance as well as aircraft production.

A Surgeon Shaves His Patient Before He Operates

—not because he hates hair, but to be clean.

On the same principle, we use an electrically driven clipper on our cows sides and udders. The hair is kept just as short as possible.

But besides this, every milking cow goes through a regular "toilet" every day. She is curried and brushed all over and her feet cleaned, so that she may be kept perfectly clean and healthy.

Every week she is thoroughly washed and, twice every day, her side and udder is well scrubbed, just before milking.

The barn ceiling, floor, and walls are scrubbed and whitewashed and the stanchions are scrubbed, too.

You can't make clean milk except from clean cows in a clean place.

Take Care of Your Tires

America's greatest need is for ships—more ships.

Every available vessel is being utilized in government service.

Many ships that have been carrying rubber from Sumatra and Brazil have been taken for active transport duty.

This will necessarily force a temporary curtailment of tire production.

So, make the most of the tires you have.

Use good tires.

Take good care of them. Keep them in perfect repair. See that they are properly inflated.

Increase their mileage by careful driving. Keep out of car tracks and away from bumps. Don't scrape the curb or apply brakes too suddenly.

Get every mile your tires have in them.

Only in that way can you be assured of your car's continuous service.

Better Cooking by Electricity

Women have long known that electric cooking is cleaner, that it banishes all the dust and ashes of coal and wood and soot and fumes of gas. They have known that it makes the kitchen cooler; the air purer; that is the most convenient way to cook. Now they have the word of the women who stand for the most scientific cooking methods known, that electric cooking produces better results than any other means.

Let us demonstrate the various sizes of ranges and refer you to the satisfied electric range users.

MAKING FRANCE STRONGER

Former Alsatian Mayor Talks of German Drive.

"France has but one political party—the war party. France has but one faith—faith in victory. Finally, France has but one policy, that of service and sacrifice continued until triumph."

Daniel Blumenthal, former mayor of the Alsatian city of Colmar and now head of the World League for the Restitution of Alsace-Lorraine ,thus summed up the effect of Germany's latest colossal pounding of France.

"But the situation is serious," he continued. "In Paris the men who are carrying the numbing responsibility are grave-faced, and always praying for the advent of the Americans, more and more Americans, who must finally turn back the German hordes to their place beyond the Rhine.

"The faith of France is pinned on the American soldier, and their regiments cannot gather too quickly along the sorely tried lines to relieve the tension. All the parties in France, represented and not represented in the government, and all the people are more united for war today than ever since the invasion in August, 1914, and despite the threatening moment their confidence has never been so solidly grounded.

"Admiration and affection for Americans is steadily increasing in France, for the severely tested republic finds that its new allies are 'proving up' even better than was expected—and much was expected of the American soldier.

"And now a word about us Alsatians. We feel about the American soldiers who today are fighting our oppressors just over the Alsatian borders as the American colonists felt about Lafayette and his French.—New York Evening Sun.

CRENSHAW AGAIN ON TRIAL

Young U. of Va. Student's Plea Will Insanity.

Charlottsville, Va., May 16.—Good progress was made yesterday in the trial of S. Dabney Crenshaw, IV., of Richmond, Va., on the charge of burning the chemical laboratory at the University of Virginia on the night of January 26, 1917. The jury was soon selected. Judge R. T. W. Duke, attorney for the commonwealth made the opening statement. He detailed the history of the burning of the laboratory and the taking and sale of the platinum by the accused. He said as the charges had been admitted and the defense would claim that the accused was not responsible for his acts, it would be for the jury to pass upon this question upon the evidence to be produced.

Robert Scott, of Richmond, of counsel for Crenshaw, followed Judge Duke, and set before the jury the line of defense which would be followed, and the grounds on which they would be asked to acquit the former chemistry student. He said it would be proved that the young man was affected with a mental disorder which rendered him unable to resist an impulse to take money and other things of value not his own. Instead of being sent to the penitentiary, Mr. Scott said Crenshaw should be sent to an asylum for observation and further treatment. The verdict asked would be "not guilty, because of insanity at the time of commission."

BY AIR TO EUROPE NEXT

Writer Thinks This Problem Should Be Solved by Student of War Puzzles.

Ernest P. Goodrich, in the American Review of Review, asks: "Where is the vaunted American initiative and inventive genius?

"To be sure Americans invented the submarine and the aeroplane and laid the foundation for the tank in the caterpillar tractor, but others have so far improved on these American ideas that the latter are almost unrecognizable now in their offspring. The creation of the Liberty motor is almost up to American ideals of American efficiency, and we pray that it will be satisfactory in the same degree. We have heard rumors of submarine listening devices, torpedoes that seek their mark by sound and unsinkable ships.

For military reasons, perhaps, it is inadvisable that the details of these inventions should be made public. We are trying to build ships, but almost without shipyards, material or men. We should immediately transport to Europe more soldiers and supplies than the present fleets of the world can carry.

Why not undertake to make deliveries of some of these war necessities by other means? Why not train a corps of 1,000 long-distance air pilots and make deliveries of aeroplanes on the wing?

Vessels are being convoyed; why not establish a boat-patroled route across the Atlantic from Newfoundland to the Azores, to Portugal, to France and send our machines through the air?

WILL MEET AT HOT SPRINGS

Bar Association Executive Committee Takes Steps to Arrange Program for Summer Convention.

The regular annual meeting of the Virginia State Bar Association will be held on August 13, 14 and 15, probably at the Virginia Hot Springs. This is the first meeting since 1916, as the meeting in 1917 was canceled for fear of its interference with the preparations for war. The speakers for the meeting have not yet been selected, but will be men of national prominence.

This was determined at a meeting of the executive committee held Monday afternoon at the Westmoreland Club, in Richmond, at which meeting Harvey T. Hall, of Roanoke; Lewis H. Machen, of Alexandria, and Thomas W. Shelton, of Norfolk, were named as delegates to the convention of "Win the War to Enforce Peace," to be held at Philadelphia on May 10-18, at which ex-President Taft will preside. At the request of the Council of Defense the executive committee directed an appeal to be sent to all members of the association urging them to volunteer their legal services, without charge, to such men drafted in the military or naval service of the country as need it, with a view to aiding them in arranging their business affairs before leaving on active service, and to inform and protect them in their rights under the various acts of Congress passed in their interests.

The executive committee further provided for the holding of a golf tournament, at which two silver cups will be presented as prizes.

TREES FOR PALESTINE

Forestry One of the Greatest Needs of Holy Land.

Two principal recommendations which the civilian commission now in Palestine will make a beginning for the reconstruction of that country will be a scheme for beginning a forest station, and a proposal for the conservation of water supply by storage and by opening up old springs.

A preliminary statement from a member of the committee says:

"The greatest of all Palestine's needs is a forest station. For centuries the land has been denuded of its trees, with most disastrous consequences, for the heavy rains at certain seasons, instead of benefitting the soil, over more than four-fifth of the area carry away in rushing torrents much of the little soil that remains on the high lands and valley slopes.

"Palestine has not always been treeless. The Roman emperors had valuable forests in the country, and Absalom, riding, was caught by the hair among the trees, but today one might gallop from Dan to Beesheba without having to duck one's head to avoid a branch."

LYNCHBURG TRAGEDIES

Little Girl Killed by Runaway Horse, Another Fatally Hurt by Auto.

Lynchburg, Va., May 16. — Annie Nuckols, a nine-year-old child, was run down late Tuesday on Twelfth street by a runaway horse and was almost instantly killed, dying on the way to the hospital. Half an hour later Virginia Clark, about the same age, was run down by an automobile at Fifth and St. Augustine streets, and fatally hurt. She is not expected to survive.

CHARGED WITH ARSON

Woman Lodged in Jail at Rocky Mount Following Suspicious Fire.

Danville, Va., May 16.—Word came from Martinsville Tuesday that Mrs. Ellen Philpott, of Henry county, has been arrested charged with arson. She has been lodged in jail at Rocky Mount. Miss Lee's stable was burned on Saturday night, a cow and much feed being destroyed. Peter Ford put his bloodhounds on the scent after the suspicious origin of the fire had been brought to light and they followed the trail to Mrs. Philpott's home. It is alleged that there had been bad feeling between the two families.

Frank Richardson, son of J. R. Richardson, of Martinsville, was on Sunday night attacked and stabbed by two negroes named Flood on a road. The knife penetrated the lung. The negroes are under arrest.

Wants Twenty Wives.

Philadelphia, May 16.—In the face of counter accusations introduced for his wife, Benjamin Schurr, formerly a policeman at Front and Master streets, lost his suit for divorce before a jury in Judge Wessel's court. He asked for a divorce on the grounds of desertion.

Henry J. Scott, counsel for Mrs. Schurr quoted the husband as saying: "Every man is a pig, and if I had twenty wives I would still want another."

PORTUGAL'S PART IN WAR

Little Republic Doing More Than Sending Men to Front.

Portugal has 50,000 men in the trenches in France. Her troops hold a section of perhaps ten miles adjoining the British southeast of Armentieres. It must be remembered that though the British, the Portuguese and the Belgians defend only one-third of the line along the western front, there are opposed to them one-half of the German divisions. The difficulty of the terrain and the number of the opposing troops make it necessary to man these trenches more thickly than at other parts of the line The little republic has also nearly 30,000 men fighting in East Africa a campaign of the most arduous kind.

A great number of Portuguese laborers are working in the munition factories of France and England to release men needed at the front. The republic of southern Europe came into the war to meet her treaty obligations. Her parliament announced its readiness to stand loyally by these whenever England should call upon her. The need came when the allies, as a counter-stroke to the submarine warfare, asked Portugal to seize the interned German shipping lying in her ports. This was done. Eighty per cent of these German ships were turned over to England to air her carrying trade. Berlin retorted by declaring war upon Portugal.—Milwaukee Journal.

BRAZIL TO DECLARE WAR

Canadian Banker Declares a New Spirit is Making for a Democratic National Army.

An Atlantic Port, May 16.—Opinion prevails throughout Brazil that before fall the Brazilian government will have taken an active part in the European war, according to Sir John Bird, head of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, at Toronto, who arrived here Tuesday from South America.

"A new spirit through all the country is making for a democratic national army," Sir John added. "While only those prosperous men with training in military schools have been called into service, through other organizations nearly 200,000 volunteers of all classes have been enrolled for rifle training, and when they have completed their course they will be enrolled in the army reserve. A similar plan is used for the navy."

LIQUOR VIOLATOR INTERNED.

Virginia Organ Manufacturer Is Found To Be Enemy Alien.

Charlottesville, Va., May 16.—The sequel of the pro-German activities that were unearthed at Waynesboro last March, when Henry Zentner, a supposed organ manufacturer, was arrested on charge of violating the Mapp Prohibition act, took place yesterday when the United States Commissioner at Harrisonburg sent Zentner to Atlanta to be interned for the balance of the war as a dangerous enemy alien. He was brought to this city by Deputy Marshal E. L. Chappelle, en route to the Lynchburg jail for safe keeping until final orders are received for his transfer to the Federal prison. The prisoner gave his age as 45 years and place of birth as Kaufbeuson, Bavaria.

TEUTONS STAY ADVANCE.

Germany Promises Lenine to Respect Treaty of Brest-Litovsk.

Zurich, May 16.—Germany, in response to Premier Lenine's recent protest against the German invasion, has assured the Moscow government that her troops will not advance further in the Ukraine and Finland. The note adds that "Germany desires to hold strictly to the terms of the Brest-Litovsk treaty."

According to diplomatic dispatches received here the Germans and the Austrians have already begun to partition the Ukraine into spheres of influence. A Moscow telegram from Kiev recites that the Germans have allotted to themselves for development and exploitation most of the Valley of the River Dnieper. To the Austrians for the same purposes have been turned over the rest of the Dnieper Valley and the valley of the River Bug.

Desperate German efforts are being made to make this division appear peaceable. Yet the Frankfurter Zeitung of March 13 admits that grave Ukrainian disorders have arisen in Ekatarinoslav, Odessa and Kolpara. On the other hand the official Wolff bureau sends out a long story to the effect that the Ukraine government is with the invaders.

Russia has begun to turn in earnest against the Germans. Reports of the battle between the anarchists and the Bolsheviki in Moscow are so interpreted by well informed Slavs in Washington.

The anarchists, strangely enough, are in the party of law and order in Russia today.

They hate the Germans as they hated the old regime.

PERSHING TO COMMAND.

American General to Lead French and British Troops.

Gen. Pershing probably soon will be commanding French and British troops as the process of brigading American units with their allies on the western front goes forward.

As if exemplifying the unity of command and action into which the United States and its cobelligerents have entered, it became known here yesterday that whenever American troops predominate in the brigade divisions as the process goes on, these divisions, under present plans, will be turned over to Gen. Pershing's command.

This plan would accomplish several things which the military authorities consulting upon it regard as very desirable. It would rapidly increase the size of the American fighting command on the battle line; it would contribute tremendously to the spirit of unity and concerted effort and at the same time, instead of holding large numbers of American troops behind the lines while training, would surround them with seasoned veterans and under actual battle conditions school them to be brigaded later with fresh American troops coming to France.

In this way the efficiency of the British and French forces is expected to be increased and the work of building up a great, fully trained and completely equipped fighting force in France is expected to be hastened.

DEPLORES WORK ON SUNDAY

Bishop Harding Speaks on District's Needs at Diocese Session.

Washington, May 16.—A service in the interests of missions was held last night in the Church of the Good Shepherd, as one of the sessions of the annual convention of the Washington diocese of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The Rev. Randolph H. McKim spoke on the "Effects of war on missions in this country and in England, and what ought to be its effects."

Dr. McKim said that $13,000,000 was spent annually for chewing gum and $12,000,000 for missions. He said this war was a scourge to punish Germany and the world for materialism. The Rev. Paul Shimona, of the Armenian Church, spoke briefly on the Mohamadan massecres of Armenians. Bishop Harding also addressed the meeting on the need of cultivating the missionary spirit. A large offering was taken up for missions.

The convention adopted a resolution condemning the legalizing of Sunday baseball and the moving picture theaters here and deploring the fact that the stress of war work had turned the Sabbath into a regular work day. The resolution bound the churches to work for a comprehensive Sunday law.

"Our formerly serene and quiet Washington," said Bishop Harding, "has become a city overrun with a vast influx of people, come on business with the government, but the large number workers for the government New conditions confront us which demand new agencies to meet them. We do not want a Puritan Sunday, but it is evident that for the sake of labor and for the quiet and order that should mark the day there should be some restrictions."
